We have made every effort to ensure that this visualization accurately reflects the colour, pattern and surface structure of an actual door. However, we are not able to guarantee a perfect reproduction on the monitor screen or on a printout from a standard office printer. This is due to the variety of available computer hardware, its individual settings and particularly the settings of the monitor, graphics card and printer. Therefore, we encourage you to familiarize yourself with the pattern of finishes available from our distributors or in the RK Exclusive Doors showroom.

This visualization is for illustrative purposes only and the technological drawing and specification listed in the order confirmation shall be deemed as the full and final documentation for manufacture.
